ERRATA

A. Sykora (#644-Section C -- Head of Slovak Youth Union) reported as Yugoslav delegate to the 11th Komsozol Congress, is believed to be a Czechoslovak delegate.

E. Moore, Enu (#655 - Section C - Member of International Organization of Democratic Lawyers) reported as nationality unknown, is believed to be identical with Harvey Moore, British Barrister.

C. Eugenio Reale (CC/CP Italy) was inadvertently omitted from Section C. He arrived Warsaw 13 February 1949 for what he termed "a private visit." 19 February 1949 he left Warsaw via Czech airlines for Prague, and it was strongly rumored he would continue to Moscow.

INTRODUCTION

This is the fourth report in the series "International Communist Movements," covering the period 1 January - 1 May 1949. Section A contains addenda to the previous reports. Section B is a survey of international meetings. Section C contains the basic information on individual movements; the destination index (C II) has been reduced in this issue to a list of Communists travelling to the USSR. Section D (list of abbreviations) and Section E (alphabetical name-index) are arranged as usual.

MEETINGS

a. Peace Meetings

During the current period the international "peace" campaign which started with the World Congress of Intellectuals, August 1948, reached a new climax. The public statements made by Communist leaders in Sweden, France, Italy, United Kingdom, Germany, Norway, Japan, United States, Denmark, Switzerland, Mexico, Philippines, Argentina, Australia, Finland, Israel, Austria, Colombia, Belgium, China, et. al., in support of the Soviet Army represented but another aspect of the campaign which manifested itself also in several peace congresses and conferences held in Paris, Prague, New York, as well as in Eastern Europe. The international and centralized character of the peace campaign has never been in doubt -- the resolutions of the Wroclaw Congress of 1948 as well as the resolution of the Paris Congress, make it clear that an international Communist campaign was and is intended; several reports suggest that the peace campaign is to be given priority by local Parties.

The peace campaign also affected this current survey of international Communist movements -- a great number of foreign delegates attended the various events (Conference of the International Secretariat, Paris, February; Peace Conference, New York; Peace Congress, Prague; Congress of Intellectuals, Rumania), and more than a third of the individual movements listed in Section C of this report reflect trips in connection with peace meetings.

b. 11th Komsovol Congress and 10th Congress of Soviet Trade Unions, Moscow

For the first time in the postwar period, foreign delegates traveled to the USSR to attend official meetings of CPSU auxiliaries -- youth and trade unions. According to our incomplete records, the Komsovol Congress was attended by youth representatives from the satellite countries (Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Rumania) and from Northern Korea and Mongolia. Communist Youth organizations of France, Italy, Great Britain, Norway, Sweden, Spain and China were also represented. The 10th Trade Union Congress was similarly attended by representatives from the European satellite countries, Korea and Mongolia. The available list of other delegates (from Austria, France, Italy, Great Britain, Germany, Netherlands, Sweden, Australia, China, Venezuela and Uruguay) is particularly interesting as it seems to indicate that the international aspects of the TU Congress may have been more pronounced than those of the Komsovol Congress -- two Latin American Parties were represented and the German organizations were admitted. The Venezuelan representative was reported as having been called to attend in order to discuss plans for sabotage of the Venezuelan oil fields. It is not possible, however, to substantiate this report on the basis of available information.

c. National Congresses and Conferences

Reports to the effect that the 19th Congress of CPSU would be held this year, have not materialized as yet. For that matter, during the current period rumors about the Soviet Party Congress were not so numerous as in the preceding period.

The SED Party Conference (January 1949) was well-attended by foreign delegates -- perhaps to give full fraternal recognition to the German Party, which has "officially" broken all organizational relations with the KPD in the West, and is now apparently now on a par with the Parties in the Eastern European satellite countries. The facts that the political line of the SED now coincides officially with policies publicized by the Cominform and that the Cominform journal now appears in a German edition, have been interpreted as meaning that the SED has joined the Cominform formally. There is, however, no evidence to substantiate such an interpretation.

The National Congress of CP Norway (February) brought into the open disputes between the Moscow faction and nationalist elements -- FURUBOM (pro-Moscow) was reportedly relieved as Secretary General. However, nothing further about the "split" has been reported since February.

d. Cominform Meetings

During the first half of the current period, a great number of unsubstantiated reports were received claiming that the Cominform was in session. These reports are included in the current survey for what they are worth, and should not be construed as evidence showing that a Cominform meeting was actually held.

Only in mid-February there were some indications that the Cominform may have called a session -- Edgar LAMAND, Secretary General of CP Belgium, left for Prague on 7 February, and Arthur RAMELLE (CC/CP France) left for Prague on 17 February. LAMAND's trip was "suspect" as he was also absent from Brussels when the June 1948 meeting of the Cominform was held. During about the same period other foreign Communist leaders also showed up in Prague, but their presence was not clearly indicative of a Cominform meeting. Lazaro PENA (Cuba), reported in Prague on 9 February 1949, returned to Havana from Europe on 18 February, the day after Ramelette allegedly took off from Paris for the Cominform meeting in Prague. Ocampo PASIENE (Chile) reportedly attended the WFTU Executive Meeting in Paris in January, and appears to have gone to Prague on trade union matters. Dolores IBARRURI and Vicente URIBE (CP Spain) were reported in Prague around 8 February 1949, but their presence there may well have been connected with the business of moving CP Spain headquarters from Paris to Prague. Louis SAILLANT (WFTU) was in Prague from 15-19 February 1949. In view of his many trips it is almost impossible to connect him specifically with the Cominform. TOGLIATTI, who had been reported absent from Rome during the critical period, did not leave Italy.

In view of the foregoing it is not possible to assume that a Cominform meeting was held sometime between 12-17 February 1949, although there were some grounds for "suspicion" at the time.

Similar rumors will doubtless be forthcoming again. Obviously, they should not be discarded entirely. Efforts should be made, however, to investigate closely the scope of source's connections and the possibility of his being able to obtain reliable information on the subject.

e. Meetings of Partisan and Resistance Organizations

In March the organization of former Italian Partisans (ANPI) convened a congress in Venice, and the 4th National Congress of the French National Federation of Deportees, Internees and Resisters was held in April at Paris. These meetings were not adequately covered. The international connections of the Communist-controlled resistance and veterans organizations are particularly interesting as these groups frequently include Communists trained in underground and illegal techniques. The German VVN (Society of the Victims of the Nazi Regime), for instance, has been reported as studying the organization of underground and resistance operations for possible future application in Germany. The VVN includes many German Communists with valuable underground experience.

TRAVEL MOVEMENTS

a. Yugoslavia

In view of the strained relations existing between CP Yugoslavia and the rest of the orthodox Communist world, the presence of Yugoslav delegates at international meetings may seem puzzling. Yugoslav delegates attended the peace congresses and conferences at Paris and New York, and participated in the WFTU Executive Committee meeting in Paris (Jan 49). On second thought, however, the basic position of CP Yugoslavia vis-a-vis the Soviet Union in case of a war against the USSR has not been abandoned by the Yugoslav Party, and it is not unnatural that Yugoslav delegates should join in the current peace campaign. Evidently, Yugoslav Communists representing Yugoslav trade unions, may participate in the work of an international Communist auxiliary (such as the WFTU) with propriety whereas the CP Yugoslavia must continue to be ostracized as a Party.

b. Travel to the USSR

The influx of foreign Communists into the USSR was particularly heavy in the current period as foreign delegates attended the 11th Komsovol Congress and the 10th Trade Union Congress in Moscow. Attention is directed to section C of this report where individual travel movements into the USSR are set out by country of origin. Individuals listed under Nos. 4, 6, 8, 23, 27, 32, 71, 85, 98, 111, 112, 118, 120, 122, 123, 156, 164, 207, 216, 222, 241, 246, 253, 255, 260, 266, 278, 279, 290, 302, 339, 340, 342, 343, 365, 366, 372, 374, 375, 395, 396, 397, 402, 403, 415, 422, 437, 446, 457, 460, 461, 467, 478, 492, 494, 495, 503, 504, 506, 497, 523, 624, went to the USSR as delegates to one or the other of the two Congresses. Several others were reported en route to the Paris Peace Congress via the USSR (see #114, 116, 117, 368, 369, 373). In spite of the great numbers of foreign Communists present in the USSR during the current period, little more can be done at present than to record their names for future reference. In addition, the above list furnishes a convenient starting point for the collection of information on the activities of the foreign delegates at the Komsovol and Trade Union Congresses in Moscow, a subject of considerable interest.

c. Soviet delegates to National Congresses Abroad

A theory has been advanced that two members of the Secretariat/CPSU may be specializing in the direction of foreign Parties because they, more regularly than others, attend foreign Party Congresses. They are P.A. PONOMARENKO and M. A. SUSLOV. PONOMARENKO who was Chief of Staff of the Central Command of the Partisan Movement in 1943 was reportedly closely connected with the Polish Committee of National Liberation. He led the Soviet delegation to the Polish Unification Congress (December 1948). The possibility that PONOMARENKO may be charged with the direction of the Polish Party is certainly worth noting, but further evidence is required.

In the case of SUSLOV, some circumstantial evidence is available indicating that he may be involved in the direction of foreign Parties. In 1947, he signed the greetings from the CC/CPSU to the second SED Congress, and, in 1948, to the Sixth National Congress of CP Italy. In June 1948, he attended the Cominform meeting at which Tito was ousted. In December 1948, he attended the Congress of the Bulgarian Workers Party, and in January 1949, he attended the SED Conference in Berlin.

d. Travel to Prague

Prague continues to be a destination point for foreign Communists who have no discernible reason for going there, and it may be assumed that these "unexplained" trips are made for consultation purposes (see S-Memo #49). During the current period the following were reported in Prague:

1. LAIMAND, Edgar, Sec Gen/CP Belgium. (see #47)
Although probably not going to a Cominform meeting, LAIMAND may well have discussed Party affairs in Prague.
2. RALETTE, Arthur Jean Baptiste, CC/CP Franco. (see #252)
3. PAJETTA, Giancarlo, Directorate/CP Italy. (see #355)
Reportedly by private plane.
4. PORPHYROGENIS, Miltiados, KKE leader. (see #237)
In view of the recent Soviet offer to "settle" the Greek civil war, and in view of the fact that PORPHYROGENIS asked in Prague for a visa for the US to discuss the settlement of the Greek question at Lake Success, it is probable that PORPHYROGENIS co-ordinated with the Soviets in Prague.

5. CONTRERAS TAPIA, Victor, CP Chile. (see #102)
The prolonged trip of this Communist has been variously reported as a mission to report to CPSU on the status of CP Chile, and/or as a study tour of European Communist Parties under the auspices of the Cominform. The latter version came from a source considered reliable.

6. JAMBHEKAR, Rankishna, Sec Gen/All India Friends of the Soviet Union. (see #324)

e. Co-ordination between CP Italy and CP France

The most talked-about trip was that of the aged French leader Marcel Cachin to Italy in January 1949. Ostensibly geared to the "peace" campaign, the trip was also reported as having been undertaken to arrange for the creation of a co-ordination center for CP Italy and France. Unfortunately, no subsequent evidence has come to light on this subject, and further information is required.

f. Latin American Communists in Europe

Over and above the movements of Latin American Communists to the various official meetings in Europe and in the USSR, there are a few Latin American Communists who are apparently in Europe on business of a less official nature. These individuals remain of interest:

1. AMADO, Jorge (CP Brazil), #57
GATEAI, Zolia (CP Brazil), #59
2. CONTRERAS TAPIA, Victor (CP Chile) #162
3. SOCARRAS, Dr. Jorge Francisco (CP Colombia - PCC), #129
4. AMORIN, Enrique (CP Uruguay) #519
5. PARRA, Jesus (CP Venezuela), #624

Information on CONTRERAS TAPIA, Victor is particularly desirable.
